How did the Fund perform last year and what affected its performance?

For the 12-month period ended June 30, 2024, the Fund outperformed its benchmark, the MSCI Europe Index.

WHAT FACTORS INFLUENCED PERFORMANCE

Strong security selection was the key driver of relative outperformance. Particularly, the positive stock selection results in Industrials, Communication Services, and Consumer Staples contributed to relative returns. Weaker stock selection in Information Technology somewhat detracted from performance. Sector allocation, a result of our bottom-up stock selection process, also added to relative returns. Positive allocation effects driven by our overweight in Industrials and underweight in Consumer Discretionary was partially offset by our underweight position in Information Technology. At the issuer level, our top two relative contributors were our overweight position in Rheinmetall AG and UCB SA, while our top two relative detractors were not holding Novo Nordisk and our overweight position in Prudential PLC.

POSITIONING

We remain overweight in Industrials and Consumer Staples as we continue to find a lot of good investment ideas within this sector that fit our investment process and philosophy. We remain underweight Health Care and Information Technology as a result of our bottom-up stock selection process, as we struggle to find attractive ideas in these sectors that fit our investment criteria, with some companies (e.g. ASML and Novo Nordisk) trading at elevated valuation levels relative to their fundamentals in our view.

PERFORMANCE

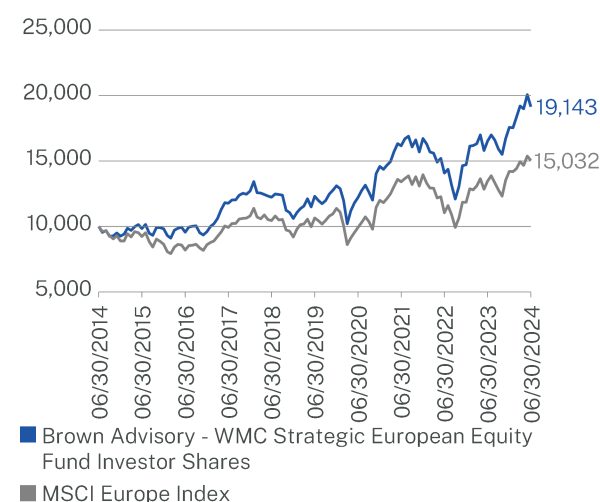

The Fund posted positive returns for the reported period driven by positive bottom-up stock selection and positive allocation effects.
